Holiday Music
Is about Justice

AN EVENT OF SONG & VIVID COMMENT

With— HOLIDAY SONGS & CAROLS

SUNDAY * DECEMBER 22 * 2:30 PM

Holiday Music Is about Justice

AN AESTHETIC REALISM THEATRE COMPANY PRODUCTION

THROUGH SONG—we present what men and women most hope to know: the beauty, practicality, and true selfishness of ethics! Eli Siegel, founder of Aesthetic Realism, described ethics as “the art of enjoying justice.”

What can America learn from such internationally loved songs as “The Little Drummer Boy,” “The Hanukah Song,” “Silent Night,” “Un Flambeau, Jeanette, Isabelle!,” “Who Can Retell?,” and such popular songs as “Top Hat, White Tie, and Tails,” “Santa Baby,” “Let Yourself Go”?

You’ll learn about the fight in everyone, and in the US economy: between justice and selfishness. And you’ll see: ethics is the magnificent, needed oneness of care for self and justice to the outside world.
